

Join National Lung Cancer Partnership on Facebook

The National Lung Cancer Partnership is now on Facebook! Facebook is a social networking website that allows people to share information and insights and to network with people who share similar interests. You can help spread lung cancer awareness and network with other lung cancer advocates by visiting us on Facebook, becoming our fan, joining our group, and participating in our Cause. Don't have a Facebook profile yet? Simply visit www.facebook.com to sign up and create your profile.

Your profile can consist of as little or as much information as you'd like. Most profiles include your picture, name, hometown, educational background, career information and interests.

Once you've created your profile, search for "National Lung Cancer Partnership" Once you've located us, click on the links "Become a Fan" and "Join Group" to begin networking with other advocates. To join our Cause, which allows people to raise funds for non-profit groups, you'll need to add the Cause application to your profile by searching for the word "cause" and downloading that function. Next, search for "National Lung Cancer Partnership." Once you find it you can join the Cause.

After these steps, it will be easy to find old friends and make new ones Facebook. Good luck and have fun! The Partnership looks forward to seeing you on Facebook.

Facebook Lingo:

Friends/Friending – To 'friend' someone on Facebook means to send an individual a request to include them in one's circle of contacts. To find friends simply type in their names in the search field to the left of the screen. You can even invite friends who are not on Facebook to join.

Wall - A 'wall' on Facebook is a section of the profile dedicated to public messages left by friends. This is called "writing on a wall."

Messaging – Messaging is emailing within Facebook and it is private.

Groups - Groups are mini-networks within Facebook that members can create and have others join. These groups have their own profile with information similar to individual profiles and consist of walls, messaging and posts.

Events – Created by people or groups, events are profiles used to announce happenings. They are set up similar to groups with walls, messaging capabilities, pictures, links and etc.

Causes - Causes are another group on Facebook that are specifically designed for non-profits.